Four Men Shot in Two Holdsecond jury in criminal court today.

A feature of the situation was brought out when the mother announced that Martin Hunter, a youth, indicted as an accomplice of Miss Moore, had also disappeared. In a recent letter received by Miss Moore, the girl's mother says Hunter stated he was "just sailing for Italy." Hunter's home is said to be in Indiana Harbor, Indiana.

Attorneys for the Harth family announced last night a nation-wide search would be started to apprehend the couple.

The Harth murder was the most sensational that ever occurred here. The shooting took place September 8, last, eight miles outside the city. Harth in a dying statement, declared robbery the motive, while the girl alleged Harth attacked her. Diamonds and money, valued at several thousand dollars, were on Harth's person when he died. ups in Chicago's West Side. Motorcycle Cop Loses Trail of Speeding Car.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Two bandits and two express company paymasters were shot, one of the latter probably fatally and 25,000 stolen in two daring pay roll robberies on the West Side within 20 minutes yesterday. The bandits escaped.

Earlier in the day two young men who have been helding up branches of a chain store grocery system perpetrated their fifteenth robbery within a month, escaning with $750.

Five bandits in a touring car fought with three express company messengers in the heart of the densely populated West Side and escaped with $10,000 after two of their number had been wounded. More than 50 shots were exchanged in the fight while 200 pedestrians and employes of a factory looked on. George Haubrock, one of the express paymasters, was shot through the head and is not expected to live. Another messenger, Charles Gaude, was wounded when, with a companion, he attempted to fight off the bandits, while Haubrock escaped with the pay roll chest. After Haubrock fell one of the robbers grabbed the box, but was shot down by Gaude. A second bandit snatched up the money and threw it into the car, but was shot. His companions dragged the other wounded man into the machine and it dashed off with one injured man clinging to the running board. one injured man clinging to the runnin

A motorcycle policeman gave chase, but lost the trail.

Shortly after the first holdup, three armed men drove up to the Peterson Machine works, at the edge of the loop district and took $15,000 from Abe Nelson. Nelson had just reached the plant with the money, which he had drawn from a downtown bank. The robbers entered and with drawn pistols forced Nelson to hand over the money and escaped.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 27.—
Conditions in the Guyan valley coal fields of West Virginia, and incidents leading up to the march of armed miners toward that region in September, 1919, are reviewed in the report of Maj. T. B. Davis, acting adjutant-general, who was named to make the inquiry by Gov. Cornwell. The report was made public today.

Efforts of United Mine Workers, members of District 17, to unionize the Guyan field resulted in the march of miners into Boone county toward Logan, according to the report. The major charged that certain activities of union officials and communications sent out from District 17 headquarters tended to start the armed invasion which, according to state officials, was for the purpose of forcing organization "upon the Guyan miners."

Several hundred miners from the union fields of Southern West Virginia participated in the march, which ended in Boone county after state executives and union efficials had appealed to the men to abandon the idea of invading Logan county.

men to abandon the idea of invading Logan county.

Coal operators of the valley do not employ armed guards, as has been charged, but they are paying monthly through their association, to the sheriff, a sum of money which is used to pay certain deputies, the report said. This practice is condemned by the major.

Regarding the charge that miners had been "beaten and slugged" in the Guyan field, the report says that while a number of witnesses had testified that they had been arrested and beaten, these incidents "do not suffice to sustain this charge or to justify the wholetain this charge or to justify the whole-sale indictment of conditions in Log-

Other conclusions reached in the re

Other conclusions reached in the report were:
Rates of pay are apparently not below those in union fields; lawor, industrial and living conditions are as good as in the best local fields of the state; witnesses differed regarding the question of whether the miners wanted to be organized; and that the charge that workers are kept in the mines by threats and intimidation were not sustained by the evidence secured.

NEW YORK, July 27 (By International News Service.)—Blue polka dot how neckties are mere man's latest fashion craze. Haberdashers reported that the demand for dotted blue "bat wings" eclipsed any run in recent years. The craze is due, they deciare, to newspaper photographs which show Sir Thomas Lipton, the famous Englishman, and Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican candidate, wearing the tidy "bat wings."
